the Retort

the Retort is a weekly newsletter, distributed to members of the Academy and other interested individuals and institutions, as a way of helping to promote the advancement and dissemination of scientific knowledge and development of new ideas and technologies in the State. It strives to serve as an informal clearinghouse for information exchange among members of the scientific community in Idaho, featuring articles and news items related to scientific research and education in the State, as well as updates on the activities and initiatives of the Academy itself and its affiliates. It frequently includes announcements about upcoming conferences, meetings, and other events as well.

In brief, the Retort provides a platform for researchers and educators to share their work, explore current issues in their fields, and collaborate on new projects and initiatives. It is an important resource for Idaho scientists and practitioners, presenting a means for promoting STEM activities in the State of Idaho.

IASE members (and others) are encouraged to submit publicity releases from their home organizations – particularly about their own work – and information about other activities of potential interest to IASE members.

the Retort is an open-access publication. PDF copies of all issues are available at no charge through the IASE website.
